

Are you overwhelmed with M&A Readiness & Integration activities?

Benefits

Full E2E PV M&A Readiness Assessment and Integration:

- Increased preparedness for future M&A
- Adherence to M&A compliance guidelines
- An integration/ implementation plan that addresses real and potential compliance gaps
- Organizational (staff) readiness to address the full range of integration issues
- Better defined product portfolio and integration of databases

The TAKE Solutions Mergers & Acquisitions Readiness and Integration offering has been designed to act as a best practice tool for PV staff to ensure that it can be a proactive and collaborative partner in business development while ensuring that patient safety is protected throughout the M&A process.

M&A activities are increasing across the industry, which has led to the following challenges facing PV organizations

- Lack of clarity on roles and responsibilities
- Inconsistent processes and interfaces across legacy systems
- Minimal product portfolio coordination and oversight
- Poor integration of databases
- Resistance to integration or harmonization

TAKE Solutions provides an integrated approach leading to impactful results

- PV System Acquisition Preparedness review
- Due Diligence information gathering
- Integration Planning, including Transitional Services Agreements
- Integration Implementation
- Back to Business-As-Usual
- Nets benchmarking data leveraged where applicable

Example deliverables include the following

- Definition and prioritization of M&A readiness parameters and requirements
- Development of a PV M&A readiness plan (Playbook) including checklists, RACIs and associated communication and training materials along with integration implementation
- Acquisition Merger checklist
- PV Due Diligence checklist
- Template text for Transitional Service Agreements and Safety Data Exchange Agreements (SDEAs)
- Integrated and harmonized processes and governance aligned to the post-M&A structure
